

Join us for an exciting rural road trip through southern Warren County!

Penn State Extension and the Future of Ag Task Force invite you to participate in an exciting, fun-filled countryside tour of farms and agribusinesses during the 2nd annual:

Family Farm tour

Experience agriculture up-close and personal via guided farm tours!

How it works:

1. Participants can go to one of five Public Libraries of Warren County: Sugar Grove, Sheffield, Tidioute, Youngsville, or Warren after October 6 to pick up a packet of information. Included in the packet will be the names and locations of the participating agribusinesses. A brief description of each business will be given to help participants decide which businesses interest them the most. Maps and directions will also be provided so it will be easy to find all of the locations and stops.
2. After picking up the maps and directions, you are all set to begin the journey of exploring some of Warren County's agribusinesses! While there will be a recommended path of travel, you are free to explore the businesses in whatever order you choose. Simply stop at the participating businesses to experience a guided tour of the facilities. The owners or volunteers will be available to guide you and answer any questions.

Why: This tour will allow consumers the opportunity to see first-hand the different types of farms that are operating in Warren County.

Where: There are several farmers and agribusinesses participating in the tour with most located in the Tidioute and Pittsfield area of Warren County.

When: Saturday, October 18, 2008. Maps and directions will be available at the libraries after October 6. Participants can visit the businesses from 11 AM to 4 PM only.

Who: Families are welcomed and encouraged to attend the countryside tour.
