Bully Hollow Alpacas is the home to Warren County's premier alpaca farm. The beautiful barn and pastures along the scenic Allegheny River provide a fitting home to the lovable and adorable animals. Alpacas are known for their high quality, super soft wool. This is your perfect chance to see these rare and somewhat exotic animals within "spitting" distance. (Ask Walt and Monica about alpacas' spitting habits!)

Location:

Bully Hollow Alpacas is located on Route 62, approximately 6 miles from Tidioute.
